From the Executive Director

Dear colleagues and friends,

This week I had the pleasure of spending time with Benefact Trust Director, Helen Gray, understanding more about the Trust's funding streams and how they support Cathedrals. Helen is also the SNEM on Chapter at St Albans, so it is fantastic to be able to welcome Helen to our National Cathedrals Conference in May to lead a session on 'The Fundraising Landscape'.

With our attention on Fundraising, please find below a link to our lunchtime Webinar on Wednesday 4th February at noon - 'Fundraising for Music' which we will co-host with Cathedral Music Trust. The hour-long webinar will be an opportunity to share learning and best practice from colleagues and also hear about CMT's funding streams.

Still considering financial sustainability, our colleagues in the Cathedrals and Church Buildings team are working hard with Historic England (who will administer the new £92million Places of Worship Renewal Fund to do some business case planning, for which we are supporting with information on the VAT arrangements in Cathedrals. We will continue to share information on the new fund as and when it is available.

Prayers with you all as you celebrate Candlemas,

Warm wishes,

Anna Pitt
Executive Director, Association of English Cathedrals

4. Arts in Cathedrals Advisory Board - our arts curator Jacqueline Creswell has let us know there are two pieces of work available for smaller cathedrals. See images in this drop box link <https://we.tl/t-wVembYDzWc>

Children of Albion: 300 × 200 cm, Oil on canvas, 2024–2025

Children of Albion was conceived as a contemporary altarpiece — a single, immersive image intended for sustained looking and reflection. Inspired by the great masterpieces of Northern Renaissance painting, and by traditions of religious symbolism, the work explores both the darkness and the light of Britain's history, and the enduring complexities of the human condition.

The painting is deeply informed by the vision of William Blake.

Where Must We Go In Search Of Our Better Selves, Mixed media sculpture 230 × 270 × 100 cm, on wooden plinth

Where Must We Go In Search Of Our Better Selves is a sculptural self-portrait of the artist as the Garland King — a figure first explored in painting in 2017 and one that has since become a central symbol within Ben Edge's wider vision of Albion and his work. Conceived as a work of inner contemplation, the sculpture was created specifically to inhabit sacred space: a quiet monument to inward reflection, self-realisation, and the lifelong process of becoming.

The costs should be around £1,000 for tech and install.
